Corley Schaller

Presentation Consultant

Corley Schaller is a Presentation Consultant for TrialGraphix based in New York City. In his role, Corley uses his extensive industry experience in visual communications to develop effective and compelling graphics and demonstrative exhibits. Closely collaborating with each trial team, he identifies case themes and key points for each matter and determines the best way to present these concepts to a targeted audience.

Since 2006, Corley has supported many of the nation's top law firms and corporate clients in all manner and sizes of legal proceedings, including technology tutorials, hearings, jury and bench trials, arbitrations, and mediations. He has consulted on several hundred matters in most areas of litigation, including but not limited to intellectual property, securities, contracts, white collar crime, product liability and employment. Corley's experience and abilities allows him to meet the most stringent demands of high-stakes litigation.

Prior to joining for TrialGraphix, Corley served as the lead graphics consultant for a national litigation consulting firm in their New York based Trial Services division.

Corley holds an M.S. degree in Information Systems from Pace University - Seidenberg School of CSIS and a B.A. from the State University of New York at Oneonta.
