Jared Schneidman

Media Artist

Jared Schneidman is a Media Artist at TrialGraphix and is based in Chicago. He specializes in developing clear, compelling, informative graphics and animations for litigation. He has worked on a range of matters involving intellectual property, product liability, contract disputes, and antitrust issues. Jared is an expert in 2D illustration and is especially adept at developing graphics that explain complex technical concepts and processes in a concise and accessible manner.

Jared has over 30 years experience in the graphic design and illustration field, the last 10 of which he has focused on litigation consulting, contributing to over 500 cases.

Before joining TrialGraphix, Jared was a manager in the graphics department of a national litigation consulting firm in New York City. Prior to that Jared founded a successful New York City-based information graphics business, Jared Schneidman Design, which provided a full range of graphics for advertising, corporate and editorial use.

As one of the pioneers of digital illustration in New York City, Jared built a loyal following of clients that included: Newsweek, Scientific American, Money Magazine, Sports Illustrated, The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, Microsoft, Canon, and Texaco.

Jared studied Graphic Design at the School of Visual Arts and holds a B.A. in English Literature from Earlham College.
