

M.Otoole@trialgraphix.com

Monica O'Toole

Presentation Consultant

Monica O'Toole is a Presentation Consultant for TrialGraphix and is based in Chicago. In her role, Monica specializes in case analysis, presentation strategy and implementation. She emphasizes close collaboration with clients to determine communication goals in line with legal positions and constraints. After years of playing an integral role on trial teams across the nation, she has gained a reputation for delivering concise and sophisticated work.

Monica leads the development of visuals displayed in end-client presentations, expert reports, tutorials, settlement conferences, mediations, arbitrations, trial simulations, focus groups and regulatory proceedings.

Monica has experience in various types of litigation including professional malpractice, pharmaceuticals, product liability, anti-trust, contract disputes, environmental issues, intellectual property, securities, and insurance coverage.

Monica holds a B.S. in Business Administration with a marketing emphasis from Iowa State University and is a graduate of the Denver Paralegal Institute.