

R.Merisier@trialgraphix.com

Rich Merisier

Technology Consultant

Rich Merisier is a Technology Consultant for TrialGraphix based in the Miami office. With over 10 years of consulting experience, Rich has supported trial teams before judges, juries and arbitration panels across the country on diverse cases involving intellectual property, biomedical, environmental, insurance and wrongful termination matters, among others.

Notable cases include: In re Hallwood Energy, LP, et al; Bangkok Broadcasting & TV Co. Ltd. v. IPTV Corporation, et al; SCO Group, Inc. v. Novell, Inc.; In re BankAtlantic Bancorp, Inc., Securities Litigation; Lauro Rezende v. Citigroup Global Markets, Inc., et al; Reckitt Benckiser, Inc., et al v. Tris Pharma, Inc., et al; Justin Bell, et al v. Citizens Financial Group, Inc. et al; San Diego Gas & Electric Co., et al v. Sellers of Energy & Ancillary Services, et al; and Johnson & Johnson v. Boston Scientific.

Rich works with clients to recommend and choreograph effective presentation strategies for use in any legal setting. Utilizing the most sophisticated technologies he helps trial teams capture, recall and display all forms of demonstrative evidence during hearings, mediations, arbitrations or trial. Further, he can easily annotate, highlight, redact and magnify multiple exhibits simultaneously in real time, ensuring flexibility and the most successful presentation of case facts.

In his previous role with TrialGraphix, Rich was a Research Technology Manager facilitating technology and trial logistics for mock trials.

Rich holds a B.S. in Computer Science from Hofstra University.