Isaiah Carr

Technology Consultant

Isaiah Carr comes to Trialgraphix as a Technology Consultant with a base in the corporate audiovisual industry, as well as an expert in the IT network Installation field. Isaiah specializes in video editing & processing. He has delivered hundreds of hours of raw footage, edited with patience and precision.

Prior to joining our team, Isaiah sported an already budding resume. He held positions with major technology brands such as: Spectrum, Vivint, and Verizon. He was also a frequent freelance video editor for the Play Your Way Network. Isaiah has also been accredited several times as an associate producer on various podcasts.

Isaiah is a former Semi-Professional football player for the Opelika Chiefs: playing both safety and linebacker positions. He helped lead the Chiefs to back-to-back championship seasons. Having to retire early due to an injury, Isaiah is happy to have found an equally rewarding career as a technology consultant.

Isaiah is still quite the athlete and enjoys playing pick-up games and watching sports with his wife and children.
