Candi Hauff

Technology Consultant

Candi Hauff is a Los Angeles based Senior Technology Consultant at TrialGraphix. She boasts more than 17 years of experience providing trial technology expertise to clients involved in high-stakes litigation. Over her career, she has spent thousands of hours in courtrooms across the nation.

Candi specializes in seamlessly displaying documents, graphics, animations, photos, video clips, and other exhibits/demonstratives that help emphasize our clients' arguments to a courtroom audience. Her skills and experience in the 'hotseat' has helped judges, juries, and arbitration panels visualize and better comprehend complex points with ease. Candi's cool demeanor and presence in pressure filled situations are key ingredients to her success. Her dedication and work ethic makes her a welcomed addition to any trial team.

Candi holds a B.S. from the University of Texas, San Antonio.

As a former Air Force Russian Cryptological Linguist, Candi absolutely loves to travel the world with her wife, Claudia and twin boys: Andrew and Thomas. "New adventures are what keep us going...whether it's a road trip across the country or a Royal Caribbean cruise".
