

C.Walsh@trialgraphix.com

---

Colin Walsh

Presentation Consultant

Colin Walsh is a Presentation Consultant for TrialGraphix based in San Francisco. Colin uses his extensive experience in visual communications to develop effective and compelling graphics and demonstrative exhibits. He works with attorneys and experts to create compelling and persuasive presentations for high stakes proceedings in venues across the country.

Since 2003, Colin has supported some of the nation's top law firms and corporate clients in wide range of legal proceedings, including technology tutorials, hearings, jury & bench trials, arbitrations, mediations in venues across the country. He has consulted on several hundred matters in most areas of litigation, including but not limited to intellectual property, product liability, contract disputes and antitrust. Colin has lead communication consulting efforts for Apple, The University of California, AIG and other top companies.

Prior to joining TrialGraphix, Colin was on the leadership team for the trial services division of a nationally recognized consulting company and worked as a presentation specialist at a top public relations firm. Colin studied studio art at UC Davis and has a Bachelor of Liberal Arts from the New School University.